

LEE SUFFERS
TORTURE UNDER CROSS-QUESTIONS

But the Main Features of His Marvelous Story of Boasting in the Missouri Legislature Remained Unshaken After His Testimony Was Concluded.

FARRIS DENIES ALL OF

LEE'S ALLEGATIONS.

Declares He Knows Nothing of the Use of Boodle at Jefferson City and Did Not Divide the $7000 at the Laclede Hotel.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Nov. 5.—The case of the State of Missouri against Senator John A. Lee, indicted for bribery in connection with the alum baking powder scandal, is practically complete.

After an ordeal of five hours on the witness stand former Lieutenant-Governor John A. Lee was excused at 5 o'clock yesterday evening until this morning, when he was recalled for a brief time.

The letters which Lee wrote to D. J. Kelley, the legislative agent of the Baking Powder Trust, were read to the jury today. As to three or four of these communications together with several telegrams, Lee denied having any knowledge and said he did not recognize the signature attached to them as his own. He did not, however, say that they might not have been written by somebody else for him, although this point of the inquiry was not strongly urged by the defense.

Lee was calm until he reached the cross-examination, during which he was at times nervous and flushed.

He shifted uneasily in his chair as later after letter containing his own admissions of guilt was read.

He would take up a letter, finger it nervously and then slowly answer the question as to whether or not he wrote it.

All the while the defendant observed him keenly, but scarcely once did Lee look at Farris.

John A. Lee admitted that twice he perjured himself before the Cole County grand jury when he denied all knowledge of boodle with reference to the defeat of the bill to repeal the anti-alum law; he declared that he decided to tell the truth finally because his liberty was in jeopardy and that as he had done wrong he felt that sooner or later he would be found out; he frankly stated that one man who had been indicted on his testimony, Senator Buel Matthews of St. Louis County, did not as he had first testified receive $1000 from him at the Laclede Hotel conference; he answered repeatedly that he had not been guaranteed immunity by the prosecuting authorities of St. Louis or Cole County or by the attorney-general; he admitted that he was the beneficiary of Kelley's generosity, but in some instances he had cashed checks for Kelley's personal convenience; he made no secret of the fact that he was the go-between for D. J. Kelley and the senators, who, he said, agreed to line up against the alum repeal bill.

Walker P. Hill, president of the American Exchange Bank of St. Louis, was the first witness examined when the trial was resumed at 9 o'clock this morning.

The check for $7000, which Lee drew on the American Exchange Bank, was O. K.'d by Mr. Hill, who testified to this fact and was then excused.

Lee Under Fire

of Cross-Questions.

Former Lieutenant-Governor Lee was then recalled and questioned briefly by Attorney-General Crow. The re-direct examination developed nothing of importance. Lee was then taken in hand by Attorney Jordan for the defense and asked regarding a check for $250 signed by D. J. Kelley, made payable to Lee, dated Feb. 15, 1931, which he declared yesterday he cashed in St. Louis as an accommodation to Kelley.

The Senate Journal was produced to show that Lee was in Jefferson City on this date.

In regard to another check dated Feb. 12, 1931, which Lee says he cashed at Kelley in St. Louis, the Senate records showed that at that time he was in Jefferson City.

Lee explained that he cashed the checks, but not on the same day the checks were dated. Witness was then asked if he received $1000 from Havemeyer, the sugar trust magnate, and he admitted that he had.

This money, Lee says, he received for advocating the reduction of the duty on raw sugar.

Detective James Tracy of St. Louis followed Lee. He was called to testify regarding his trip to New York to arrest D. J. Kelley on indictment charging him with bribery. The defense objected to Tracy's testimony, but would be willing to admit if the state would say that Tracy was sent to New York to secure Kelley as a witness at this trial. The attorney-general declined to so admit, and the objection was sustained.

W. J. Chambers, clerk in the secretary of state's office, gave further testimony regarding the official history of the alum repeal bill at the 1931 session of the legislature.

Farris Denies All of Lee's Statements.

The state showed its case at 9 o'clock and the defense opened by placing Senator Frank Farris on the witness stand. Farris stepped into the witness chair, calm and smiling.

When Senator Farris took the witness stand today he denied in toto every allegation made by Lee's testimony, claiming

TO BE MUCH COLDER FRIDAY

Thermometer Will Go to 40 by Tomorrow Morning—Clouds Precede Cool Wave.

A breath from the Northwest that will send the thermometer down to 40 degrees by Friday morning began to make itself felt in St. Louis Thursday morning. The weather bureau declared that the cool wave was just beginning at 9:30 o'clock, and that it would reach its climax Friday morning. The forecast is:

"Partly cloudy Thursday night and Friday; colder Thursday night. Fresh northerly winds."

Huron, S. D., showed a temperature of 14 degrees, the lowest reported in the United States this fall. These much colder weather in the northern Pacific states accompanying a heavy rainstorm, which mixture of weather is expected to be the next to reach this section.

The temperature in St. Louis at 7 o'clock Thursday morning was 52. At 9:30 o'clock, when under ordinary circumstances it would have shown a material rise, it registered 54.

Physician Says She Had Lost Desire for Drug Supposed to Have Caused Death.

SECOND WIFE IS A WITNESS

Husband Says He Lifted Woman in His Arms to Administer Relieving Narcotic.

Dr. J. W. Wardington, giving his testimony before the coroner Thursday morning in the inquest into the death of Mrs. Mary E. Laidig, made the statement that Mrs. Laidig had been completely cured of the morphine habit, and that a month before her death, which has been attributed to morphine poisoning, she was without a desire for it, and was not using it in any form.

"I treated her from May to September," he said, "and I know that in September she was entirely cured of the habit."

"About the last time I saw her she followed me to the door on the occasion of a visit, and said, 'Doctor, I have something I want to tell you.' I asked her if it was in connection with her case, or if it referred to family troubles."

"She replied that it was on a family matter, and I told her I did not want to hear it."

"Clifton Laidig, husband of the dead woman, and his bride, whom he married soon after his wife's death, were also witnesses at the inquest, which was adjourned at noon until Monday at 10 o'clock."

Laidig stated that he had bought a new needle and supply of morphine for his wife after Dr. Wardington had pronounced her cured, doing so at her request. He says she begged him to get the drug, in order that she might be relieved of her pain.

Laidig testified that he administered the injections in quantities of one grain each, and that his wife never herself used the needle.

He said he went to his work at 7 o'clock. At 8 o'clock Mrs. Laidig lapsed into unconsciousness.

"Was the morphine that you gave your wife sufficient to cause her to become unconscious?" was asked.

"It was not," he answered. "It was the usual quantity."

"Is it possible that Mrs. Laidig could have arisen from bed and taken another dose herself?"

"I do not think it was."

"Did you find that she had secreted any of the drug about the bed so that she could use it in your absence?"

"I did not."

The present Mrs. Laidig was asked as to the report that she and Laidig were engaged prior to the death of the first wife. She denied it positively. She said Laidig did not call on her previous to Mrs. Laidig's death, and that he did not offer or speak of marriage until after the death.

Efforts are being made to find Miss Eva Laidig, a stepdaughter of Clifton Laidig. Miss Laidig was recently seen at three days at the house, 302 Locust street, at which the Laidigs formerly lived.

The inquest was taken for the purpose of trying to secure her before the session is resumed.

WEDS HIS MOTHER-IN-LAW

Teacher Was in Such Rush About It, Too, He Didn't Wait Long After Wife's Death.

GAINESVILLE, Ga., Nov. 4.—Choosing for his second wife the mother of the woman with whom he stood at the altar when he was first married, Prof. N. H. Mincey of Sardis Institute, one of the most popular schools in this section, has surprised his friends here, where both he and his bride, who was Mrs. Kate Bossey, are well known.

The wedding took place in Atlanta two weeks ago, but the ceremony was secret and no announcement was made until today. The former Mrs. Mincey died only a short time ago and it was understood that Prof. Mincey and Mrs. Bossey were in Atlanta winding up her estate when they were made husband and wife.

The New Republic Expects Assistance and Protection From Washington in Return for Aid in Building the Isthmian Canal.

Events Show That the United States Government Was Apprised of the Coming Revolution and Took Means to Prepare for Any Emergency.

REPUBLIC OF PANAMA.

PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.

The following provisional government for Panama has been announced:

Minister of the Government—Eusebio Morales.

Minister of Finance—Dr. Manuel Anasor.

Minister of Foreign Relations—F. V. De la Sagra.

Minister of Justice—Carlos Mendoza.

Minister of Public Instruction—N. Victoria.

Minister of War and Marine—De Obato, Jr.

CAUSE OF REVOLUTION.

The cause of the revolution may be briefly summed up as being the result of action of congress of Colombia at Bogota in rejecting the Hay-Herran canal treaty, the Panamanians are almost to a man in favor of the construction of the canal by the United States, and it had repeatedly been prophesied before and after the meeting of congress that Panama would secede if the treaty was rejected and would probably come to terms with the United States for the building of the great isthmian waterway.

WHAT PEOPLE WANT.

The people of Panama want the United States to extend a protectorate over their republic.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—The United States has tacitly recognized the revolutionary government of Panama.

It was admitted at the state department today that Vice-Consul Ehrman has transacted business with the revolutionary government and thereby recognized it.

An application for formal recognition was received from the new government but no final action was taken on it. It had taken a position which must result in the speedy establishment of the new republic on a basis sufficiently firm to admit of the making of a treaty under the canal.

Then the United States will assume a protectorate over the canal zone, which might in case of necessity be extended to the surrounding country to prevent widespread disorder.

"Keep the isthmus open for transportation on the railway and allow no bloodshed," are the orders cable to the commanders of the American warships and marines at the isthmus or hurrying there.

While the state department says this position is assumed only to preserve treaty rights and maintain the American guarantee of free traffic across the isthmus, it is tantamount to a declaration in favor of the revolution. The revolution cannot be suppressed without bloodshed and if the bloodshed is prevented by American marines the Colombian troops will be powerless.

The United States government will not allow soldiers to be transported across the isthmus on the railroad. This will aid the revolutionists still further, as it will prevent the Colombian troops from being sent to Panama.

The United States Expected the Revolt.

The administration has been expecting just what has happened, but it was not supposed that the revolution would begin until about Nov. 15. Had it been deferred until then the United States would have been prepared for it.

The Pacific squadron, under Rear-Admiral Glass, and the South Atlantic squadron, under Admiral Sigsbee, were respectively, and in 10 days more would have been on both sides of the isthmus and ready for business. The movements aroused no suspicion until Panama rose in revolt, but the purpose of the innocent appearing orders issued to both fleets some time ago is now evident.

It was because of fear that the revolution might begin ahead of scheduled time that the Boston was recently detached from the Atlantic fleet and sent ahead, and that the Atlanta was hurried northward, leaving the other ships of the South Atlantic squadron to follow more slowly from Brazil. For the same reason the Nashville was held at Jamaica and the Dixie, with her 400 marines, was kept within reach.

No sooner had the Colombian gunboat Cartagena left Savannah with troops than the Nashville was hurried from Jamaica to Colon.

Orders sent to Commander Hubbard of the Nashville at Colon to prevent the landing of the troops were held up at Colon, presumably by officers of the Colombian government, until it was too late to make them effective. The Nashville reached Colon very soon after the Cartagena on Monday evening, and had the dispatches to Commander Hubbard been delivered promptly the Colombian troops would not have been landed.

This drastic order proves the length to which the administration went to prevent the landing of the troops. The revolution, had the landing of these troops been prevented, the rebels would have had even their own way and the revolution would have been crushed.

Platt, who is a son of George Platt of 402 North Eleventh street, married Miss Ella Dumas of 182 West Pine boulevard two years ago. Last spring there was a quarrel and a separation, followed by Platt's suit for divorce, alleging ill temper. This suit was withdrawn at the request of his mother.

Then Mrs. Platt filed suit, alleging habitual drunkenness and other offenses, and was granted $12 a week alimony. She says she has not received payments on this allowance.

Soon after Platt confessed judgment to the amount of $12,000 in favor of his father, and an attachment was levied upon the furniture in the younger Platt's home, then in possession of Mrs. Platt. Mrs. Platt declared that the furniture, which she had not received payments on this allowance, was sold.

Platt's family and his wife, who is seeking a divorce, say they know nothing as to the cause of his attempt at suicide. He left St. Louis on Sept. 15, and it is supposed that he has been seeking employment with a large firm in Montreal, New York, Philadelphia or Pittsburgh.

Platt refuses to tell the cause of his act. A few minutes after wounding himself he called a bellboy and asked that a physician be sent for.

Charges Heard Against Elroy Platt While Physicians Fight for His Life.

While surgeons and nurses were fighting for the life of Elroy S. Platt at the Homopathic Hospital in Pittsburgh Thursday morning, seeking to defeat his effort at suicide, Walter B. Saunders, a special commissioner, was hearing in St. Louis the application for a receivership for the George Platt Construction Co.

The application, filed by Howard J. Weinle, a stockholder in the company, alleges that Elroy S. Platt, the would-be suicide, was responsible for alleged difficulties of the company, which bears the name of the young man's father. In that through extravagant living and neglect of business duties he had become short in his accounts to the extent of more than $12,000.

The allegations made that Platt confessed judgment for the sum of a first mortgage of $12,000 on the property of the company, and that the transfer of household furniture, made under confession of judgment to his father for $12,000, was to cover one of the mortgages.

It is for the recovery of the furniture sold under this mortgage that Mrs. Elroy S. Platt is suing, the case being set for Nov. 19.

Advices from Pittsburgh say that Platt has a chance to recover. The bullet which, as was told in Wednesday's Post-Dispatch, he aimed at his heart while in his room at the Duquesne Hotel, went wide of that mark by half an inch, but pierced the left lung.

Urging Senator Cockrell to Be the Democratic Candidate for President.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—At this writing M. C. Wetmore is laboring with Senator Cockrell, trying to induce him to become a candidate for the presidency on the Democratic ticket.

There is no expectation here that Cockrell will consent, or acknowledge that Wetmore has any right to put such a question to him. Before going to the committee room of Senator Cockrell at the capitol, Mr. Wetmore delivered himself of these words:

"I am convinced that Senator Cockrell can poll more votes, as the Democratic candidate for president than any other man."

"I am also convinced that within the next few months many men in whose political judgment Senator Cockrell has confidence will tell him the same thing. I may not be able to convince him."

"I do not expect to conclude negotiations, but in the end Mr. Cockrell will be convinced and stand for it."

Before going to the capitol Mr. Wetmore had a number of conferences at the Willard Hotel and for a time he was able to convince the hotel clerks and other look-ers-on that he was the real thing, as a national politician.

First came long and anxious talks with Senator Stone, at his quarters. Then Mr. Stone went to see local newspaper men and arranged for a general plan of publicity. He was exceedingly desirous that Mr. Wetmore should be taken seriously and hoped that the correspondents would understand this.

Then there was a conference with former United States Senator James K. Jones, chairman of the Democratic National Committee. He assured Mr. Wetmore that he would not be for anybody, although he had the greatest respect for Senator Cockrell. It did not occur to him, however, that if Missouri should be for Cockrell and remain strong for their senator, it might be very convenient later on for those who control the delegation to have it in hand for trading purposes later.

Mutual Life of New York Charges That He Secured Insurance With Intention of Committing Suicide.

SAYS HE HAS ALREADY
TRIED TO END HIS LIFE

Company Also Declares Blair Deceived It While He Was Its Attorney—Deputy Marshal Sent for Blair.

In the United States Circuit Court this afternoon the Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York filed an application for the cancellation of two life insurance policies, aggregating $250,000, carried by the company upon the life of James L. Blair.

Papers summoning Blair to court were given a deputy United States marshal at noon to serve upon Blair and he departed for Gloucester.

The company charges that the policies were secured through fraudulent representations, and that Blair's intent was to defraud the company by committing suicide in the event that detection and publicity should follow a career of embezzlement, defalcation, forgery and false pretense in which, it alleges, he was engaged at the time that the insurance policies were written.

It charges that this detection and publicity have resulted, and that Blair has, on Oct. 15 and Oct. 21, and at divers times between those dates, attempted to take his own life, and thus defrauded the company of the amount of the policies.

It charges that Blair, for ten years, during which he was attorney for the company, its adviser, and the recipient of its fullest confidence habitually deceived the company by representing that he enjoyed an income of $100,000 a year, that he was a capitalist, and able to pay the premiums.

It charges that during this time he was a forger of notes, and of fictitious mortgages and deeds of trust issued apparently to secure the same; and of fraudulent certificates of record; and that he was engaged in negotiating them.

That through these means he obtained large sums of money—to wit, the sum of $300,000—fraudulently.

CHARGES THAT BLAIR WAS DEFAULTER.

That he was a defaulter at the time of the issuance of the last issued policy, for $50,000, to the extent of $200,000 from trust estates committed to his care, from which he had embezzled and converted to his own use the sum named.

The petition charges that he fraudulently concealed these facts from the insurance company; and that if the insurance company had known these facts it would not have issued the policies.

It charges that Blair, knowing that he was guilty of the crimes of forgery, embezzlement, defalcation, fraud and wrong pretense, and knowing that his discovery would involve him in financial ruin and expose him to criminal prosecution, intended at the time that the policies were obtained, in the event that the facts of his wrongdoings should be made public, to commit suicide, and that he intended thereby to defraud the company of the amount of the policy.

It is charged that when the facts did become public, and ruin and disgrace threatened him, Blair did, as he had planned, attempt to commit suicide.

The petition states that on Nov. 2, the company, on information and belief that Blair had attempted to defraud it by committing suicide, served notice upon him of the cancellation and rescission of the policies which it held upon his life, and that the insured thereon, amounting to $33,000, this tender was refused. The tender is therefore made to the court.

The company states that the policies on the life of Blair are two in number. One for $200,000 is made payable to Apolline M. Blair, his wife. Blair's three children, and Blair himself; the other, for $50,000, is made payable to Mr. and Mrs. Blair.

The petition asks that Blair be required to appear in court to answer the charges, but not under oath, the petitioners specifically waiving requirement of an oath.

The policy for $200,000 was issued to Blair Jan. 28, 1922. The annual premiums on it were $720, divided into quarterly payments of $180.30, due on the eighth day of January, April, July and October. To date it amounts to $15,440.

The $50,000 policy was issued March 26, 1926. Its premiums and interest aggregate $12,627. The total of both policy premiums is $28,067. This policy is in the name of the company as security for a loan of $450, made on July 7, 1926, and due April 1, 1928.

MURDERED BY A STRANGE VISITOR

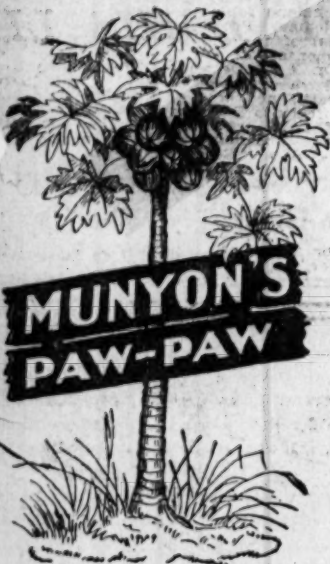

ST. LOUIS, O. T., Nov. 5.—A man rode up the Ames house, nine miles south of Stroud last night and shot and killed Mrs. Ames and Jackson, the hired man, and wounded Miss Ames, the 19-year-old daughter, in the shoulder.

The murderer first forced Miss Ames and Jackson into the cellar.

They heard a shot and, running to the head of the stairs, found that Mrs. Ames had been killed. Jackson was next killed. The young woman fell with a bullet in her shoulder, but, when the murderer went to the cellar and shot Jackson again, she regained consciousness and ran to the neighbors.

She says the murderer was a young man. Several officers are in pursuit of him.

FOLK ON POLITICAL NEEDS OF MISSOURI

Candidate for the Governorship Replies to Questions Suggested by His St. Joseph Speech.

On Tuesday, Oct. 27, the Post-Dispatch, commenting on the speech in which Circuit Attorney Joseph W. Folk announced his candidacy for the governorship, expressed the disappointment of the friends of genuine reform over the vague and unsatisfactory character of the address. It pointed out that Mr. Folk, sacrificing much in consistency and in usefulness as a public prosecutor by his early plunge into the gubernatorial struggle, offered no compensating program of reform.

He indorsed without qualification the Democratic administration of Missouri, and, by inference, indorsed the conduct of the Democratic machine, out of which has grown the manifest evils from which the state of Missouri is suffering. He discussed nothing but boodles, and practically his sole pledge was to devote himself to the prosecution of boodlers. In order to discover whether Mr. Folk had any ideas of the political needs of the state, and, if so, what those ideas were, the Post-Dispatch asked him the following questions:

1. Will you reorganize the Democratic machine, with the trust agents and their tools on the outside?
2. Will you take the police of the cities out of the politics?
3. Will you do all in your power to give the state good election laws and to enforce them?
4. Will you do all in your power to drive the lobby out of the state capital?
5. Will you, as governor and a member of the Board of Equalization, do all in your power to compel the corporations to pay a just share of taxation?

Mr. Folk sends to the Post-Dispatch the following answers to these questions:

In reply to your questions I have the honor to say that the matters you refer to have been covered in speeches I have already made, but I have no objection to repeating my views in this regard.

(1) In my St. Joseph speech I said, "It is therefore of great importance to select good committeemen, honest men desirous of their party's success—not seeking their own aggrandizement or appointment to office, but the welfare of the people. Organizations deteriorate into machines when they are controlled by men who desire to use the party for personal ends, regardless of the party's welfare. Every party should have an organization, but the best machine any individual can have is the heart and conscience of the people." Whether it be called organization or machine, I am unalterably opposed to corruptionists or trust agents or their tools having any voice in party councils.

(2) The use of police in favor of one side or the other in a political controversy is undemocratic and un-American and should not be allowed or tolerated. Police-men, of course, as well as ordinary mortals, have a right to political opinions and to exercise them the same as other persons. They should understand, however, that their duty to the public is above their obligations to any party.

(3) The sanctity of the ballot is the cornerstone of Democracy. I have done and will continue to do all in my power to give the state good election laws and to enforce them fairly and impartially.

(4) Government by the lobby is abhorrent to every sense of right and justice. The corrupt lobbyist along with his tool, the corrupt legislator should be scourged from the state capital.

(5) Corporations should be compelled to pay a just share of taxation; their property should be assessed and taxed by the board of equalization at the same rate in proportion to actual value as the property of private individuals, and in doing this the value of franchises should be taken into consideration.

I shall, on some future occasion, take an opportunity of going into these and other matters of public moment more fully. For the purpose of showing what my views are on these questions, however, the above I hope will suffice.

Very respectfully,
JOS. W. FOLK.

SHE SUES A FORMER SENATOR

Mrs. Amis, Who Has Given Sullivan of Mississippi Much Trouble, Wants $50,000 for Libel.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 5.—Mrs. M. L. Amis, who as Miss Lucille Leaton, sued former Senator W. V. Sullivan of Mississippi a few years ago for breach of promise, has joined with her husband in a $50,000 libel suit against the same statesman.

Mrs. Amis declares Sullivan has haunted her in every possible way since the suit was instituted in Washington. She alleges that he assaulted her in front of a Washington cafe, and on her return to her home at Oxford, Miss., had her arrested for sending obscene matter through the mails.

Among the allegations made by the woman is one that Sullivan wrote her a letter which is now in the hands of her attorney, in which he offered her a money consideration to make a statement in a letter to him that "Private John Allen" was the man who caused her to institute the original suit.

ion and Panama. It is believed that the soldiers at Colon will soon join the rebels. The Dixie is expected to reach Colon today. The Atlantic is due at Colon and will immediately follow the Dixie.

The Boston left San Juan del Sur and should arrive at Panama tomorrow morning. Admiral Glass should reach Panama with the rest of his fleet in five or six days.

GERMANY WILL TAKE NO PART AT PANAMA

BERLIN, Nov. 5.—Germany, the Associated Press is advised, will observe complete indifference to the political side of the Panama revolution. Both the revolutionists and the government of Panama, it is assumed, will respect the personal and property rights of German subjects living at Panama. It is considered likely that the commander of the German West Indian squadron will send a vessel to Colon, as that is now the most interesting place within his cruising field. It is also conceivable here that the German naval commander might land marines, in combination with the United States and Great Britain, if such action seemed desirable. Emphasis, however, is placed on Germany's general aloofness. The United States is recognized as the power having dominant interest on the isthmus. Germany has no inclination or object for the least interference.

ENGLAND REGARDS IT AS WHOLLY OUR AFFAIR

LONDON, Nov. 5.—The British official attitude towards the events at Panama is that it is entirely the United States' affair. This, with the consequent comparative indifference to the events at Panama, is the policy of the British government. It is unlikely possibility of some outside interference is not to be considered. By the British, or so far as the Associated Press is able to ascertain, at the various embassies here, by any other government. Upon request of the British diplomatic or consular representative the events at Panama, a war vessel would be sent to protect the rights of subjects of Great Britain, but such a request would not be encouraged. Downing street is of the opinion that the force the United States is sending to the isthmus is more than sufficient to maintain the safety of the foreign residents.

The question of the recognition of Panama's independence entirely depends on the action of the United States. If Washington communicates to the powers the intention to recognize the independence of Panama, it is not likely that there will be the slightest objection on the part of Great Britain, while, according to the views of the diplomatic circles here, the other European powers probably will quickly follow suit. There has long been a strong feeling in British official circles that it would be a excellent arrangement if the United States would undertake the preservation of good order and the stability of all the Central American states. This feeling is well-known to the American diplomats in London.

COULDN'T STAND PARODY.

Summonses for Couple Who Mocked Small Boy's Song.

Summonses were issued from the Wyoming street police court Thursday morning for the appearance of Arnold Bonderrege and his wife of 3331 Indiana avenue, to answer to the complaints that have been made by their next-door neighbors, Mrs. Mathilda Drupp, who lives downstairs at 329 Indiana avenue, and Mrs. Mary Dickson, who lives upstairs at the same number.

It is alleged by Mrs. Drupp that Mr. and Mrs. Bonderrege composed and uttered an uncomplimentary parody when her small son sang a song. "Don't you know my color won't fade," Mrs. Drupp parodied and she avers that thereupon the Bonderreges were ejected from the premises and a brickbat was thrown at her. Mrs. Dickson states that at this point she protested from her upstairs window against such unseemly language and conduct, whereupon the epithets were revived to include her.

Replevins Vex Celestial Mind.

Fears of being forced back to the wash-tub are vexing the soul of John Lee, the only Chinese farmer in St. Louis County. Two months ago Charles G. Jones, a money lender, took all Lee's farm products to satisfy a debt of $200. Charles G. Schulte has taken a horse and wagon from Lee by another writ of replevin, and Lee has little left with which to operate his farm.

GOLF CUP FULL OF DOLLARS

Mrs. Van Riper's Husband Promised to Fill Any Trophy She Won—Will Take $150.

That a golfer may win money at the Scotch game and still be an amateur has been demonstrated to the members of the Glen Echo Club by Mrs. John C. Van Riper of 832 Cabanne place.

She will become about $150 richer by winning the ladies' putting contest at Glen Echo a few days ago.

Incidentally, her husband, who is president of an East St. Louis trust company, will be the loser.

Early in the season Mr. Van Riper told his wife that if she succeeded in winning a cup he would fill it with silver dollars. The cups offered were small, and ten or twelve silver dollars would fill any of them.

Later on, however, a large cup was offered for the putting contest.

Mrs. Van Riper was fortunate enough to win the large cup when she carried it home in triumph. She reminded Mr. Van Riper of his promise.

He declared that he had not promised to fill so large a cup with dollars, but his wife insisted that there were no limitations to the arrangement.

Mr. Van Riper finally decided that he would keep his promise and the cup is now being engraved. It will require about 150 silver dollars to fill the emblem.

STONE AND LEE WORKED IN HARNESS ON ANTI-ALUM BILL

Letters to Kelley Read at Farris Bribery Trial Show That Missouri Senator Was a Potent Factor in the Lobby at Jefferson City.

HE CONFERRED WITH LEE AND LATTER NOTIFIED KELLEY

A Postscript Says; "Stone Does Not Like for Me to Write to You Direct, Therefore Do Not Mention it to Him."

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Nov. 5.—The Lee-Kelley correspondence was read to the jury in the trial of Senator Farris for bribery today. Some of it is entirely new. It shows that Senator William Joel Stone was a potent factor in the lobby which deflected the repeal of the anti-alum bill; that he was Lieutenant-Governor Lee's confidential adviser in the handling of this legislation. Lee writes to Kelley that Stone was in Jefferson City in consultation with him (Lee) in planning the steps necessary to prevent injury to the baking powder monopoly in Missouri.

The most significant of the letters follows:

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 26, 1931. Friend Kelley: I enclose you two bills, Nos. 8, 18, lower house. The first is making progress, the last will probably not be reported as it is embodied in No. 88. Lightholder of St. Louis was the son of a former retail grocer and is evidently the agent of the agency and has gotten a favorable report on his bill from the committee and the bill was somewhat hotly debated Friday (yesterday) in the lower house and sent to engrossment. When it is engrossed and returned to the house from engrossment committee it will be put on its passage. If passed it will come to the senate and will be referred to the committee on eleemosynary institutions and public health, Walker, chairman; Whaley, Heath, Tandy and Jewell.

I regard the situation as a little critical, as the enemy is using some money quietly and getting results.

Gov. S. was here yesterday, Friday, and conferred with me. He concluded to have the Kentucky bill introduced in both houses, but did not himself know how to get it done directly.

He asked me to have it done, and I told him that I would. I have arranged with a member of the lower house whose name I have marked on enclosed circular to do so Monday.

It is very difficult to get any hard work done or a fight put up for anything of the kind without funds, and I will probably have to promise the senator who introduces the bill something.

Promises, however, are not very current up here, as they appear to prefer positive and practical assurances.

Stone says that the enemy has employed Phelps on the other side. If such is the case, I do not know it, as he promised to help me about three or four weeks ago. I have not seen him for some time, but will probably do so Monday.

It seems that he wants an opportunity to appear before the committee and talk on the Kentucky bill especially and have his address printed and circulated among the legislators and senators.

I also find that Senator Haynes of St. Joseph, Mo., introduced a bill in the Senate on Thursday last which is an exact copy almost of Lightholder's bill in the House. It has been read first time and printed, and on Monday will be read second time and referred to committee on eleemosynary institutions and public health under the rules by me.

Haynes has the right, however, to ask that the bill go to some other committee, if I rule against him he can call for a vote on it by entering a motion to have it go to some other committee.

He is a very strong man in the Senate, so strong that I made him chairman of the "committee on judiciary."

There is evidently "something doing" here and a fight on before us. It is hard for me to do it all. My position is somewhat delicate and I cannot go beyond my decent boundaries.

Some circulars should be sent me at once, giving some history and particulars about the alum baking powder trust.

I have written St. Louis to my office for copies of the circular the alum people got out denouncing the legislature, the Democratic party and the State of Missouri, and for one of these breezy Missouri circulars giving the names of the members of the alum baking powder trust, and I will write up some brief, attractive circulars and have them placed on the desks.

You will, of course, note that I can easily do all these things and all the work and pay all expenses out of $11 a week allowed me by Letesta for advertising, and which it takes him about ninety days on each bill to check up and remit.

This last paragraph is confidential but quite practical.

Don't you think it would be well for you to come out here and handle this campaign? I do, and believe that it is essential for we have got a battle on our hands, as sure as Moses was a Hebrew.

My health is not fully recovered and I cannot move around very actively yet.

Better write me briefly when you let this, just to let me know that you have it and to encourage me a little. Faithfully your friend,

JOHN A. LEE.

P. S.—Stone does not appear to like the idea of my writing you direct, therefore do not mention it to him.

SENATE CHAMBER, CITY OF JEFFERSON, Jan. 28, 1931. D. J. Kelly, New York, N. Y.

Dear Sir—I have your recent favor. There is going to be a fight. I will see W and give him assurances. I will see P who will be here and secure his assistance. S does not seem to be moving; have not heard anything from him for some time.

The committee in the Senate is as follows: On eleemosynary institutions and public health, Walker, Whaley, Tandy, Heath and Jewell. I can handle them all on this question very nicely.

SON, Feb. 1, 1931. D. J. Kelly, Planter's Hotel, St. Louis, Mo.: Dear Sir—Haynes of St. Joseph is an able fellow, chairman of the judiciary committee, and I find that he and Senator Costello from DeKalb County are in sympathy and co-operating.

Costello is a member of the committee on criminal jurisprudence to which the Haynes bill No. 119 was referred. All the members, including Chairman Orchard and Smith, Farris and Morton and Matthews have promised to stand by me and take care of me on that or any other bill along that line.

Costello of the committee is on the other side and I do not know where Dowell is, although I think he can be lined up all right, through a certain influence. I have five, however, on the committee who will stand by me and who are under deep obligations to me of a personal character; therefore I feel that the situation in the senate is absolutely safe.

The Senate has adjourned until 3 o'clock Monday; I do not want you to construe the letter I wrote you into a kick; there is no kick intended. It was a cry for help, as I was a little rattled and scared at the outlook. I feel much more confident now.

Senator Haynes of St. Joseph is a strong man here and I felt very apprehensive. He purposely diverted the bill from the committee on eleemosynary institutions and public health which should properly have handled it and which I talked to you about, and sent it to the committee on criminal jurisprudence. This was done while I was out of the chair for a few moments in conference with a delegation from St. Louis in relation to the public schools bill and I thought he probably had things fixed with the committee on criminal jurisprudence to my disadvantage. I, however, ascertained that such is not the case and that he had practically put himself into a pocket.

Phelps is here today and I will have a talk with him and give him to understand that this repeal legislation must be stopped or there will be trouble. But do not tell Stone anything about the situation.

I have ingratiated myself with all the senators and they have fitted me up an office elegantly—something that has never been done for a lieutenant-governor before in the history of the state; no lieutenant-governor ever had an office before. It is room 42 Capitol building, and I want you to come up here and have a talk with me. Nobody need know who you are and Stone need not know you came up here unless you want him to know. Stop at the Madison House. I take my meals there, and you can make headquarters over in my office at the Capitol.

Truly your friend, JOHN A. LEE.

St. Louis, 4-3-32. I don't know what it will cost, but have had conference with certain experts here and they hold that it should be stopped in the House this time and that it will cost including all contingencies, about $15,000, entirely conditional, of course, on delivery. This provides for everything and everybody. The work should be begun, however, before they meet. They all come into St. Louis for fodder and pass just after they are elected and can be pleaded in advance. I believe Carroll a much better man to handle such a deal than Phelps, as the latter is losing out right along. He got a dreadful drubbing in his own county not long since and there is a bad feeling against him prevailing.

The expert says it is not a party measure, and that Republicans are cheaper than Democrats, and that his idea would be to get both and make the thing so almost unanimous that the fight would be forever settled.

He and "your mutual" would divide $5000 and the rest would be used to control the House and keep the Senate quiet and prevent trouble of all kinds.

Senate Chamber, City of Jefferson, Jefferson City, March 31, 1933. My Friend:

How did Farris feel at the close? He was mistaken about me leaving to avoid appointing a conference committee. I left because it was the opportunity of a lifetime to go to New York and get personally advertised in connection with the World's Fair, and I knew that he was perfectly safe.

I have not heard from Farris since. In fact I am the only man of all the legislature who is here to look the grand jury in the eye. Do not use your own patronymic in writing me. Sign "Samuel Sargent."

KILLED WHILE COUPLING CAR

Coroner Holds Railroad Responsible for Death of Charles Bixler.

While coupling coal cars of a train at the east approach of the Merchants' bridge Wednesday night, Charles Bixler of East St. Louis was thrown beneath the trucks of one of the cars and run over. He died from his injuries at St. Mary's Hospital at 2:30 o'clock Thursday morning.

At the inquest held several hours later by Deputy Coroner Brichter, the Illinois Central Railroad Co. was held responsible for Bixler's death. It being claimed that a defective draw-head on one of the cars was responsible for the accident.

Bixler was 37 years old and unmarried. He lived with his mother at 38 Tremblay avenue, East St. Louis.

COUNTY TEACHERS ADJOURN.

The three days' session of the St. Louis County Teachers' Association in Sangerbund Hall at Clayton closed Thursday.

The closing day opened with an invocation by Rev. J. M. Schultz. Prof. Joshua Richmond followed with a brief address of welcome. Prof. George Shephardson, principal of the Old Orchard School, made a response.

Dr. A. J. Detweiler of the State University, a member of the State Board of Health, delivered an interesting lecture on "Infectious Diseases in the Public Schools." The officers elected were: President, J. M. Schultz; Vice President, Mark Moody; Secretary, Miss Sarah Wilder; Treasurer.

KES' FOR WATER DRINKER

Water Moccasin Five Inches Long Wiggles Through Hydrant Into the Family Cooler

George M. Wagner, the head of the family, called to the other members of the family to hurry to the kitchen and assure him that he had not been drinking something stronger than water.

Wagner had gone after a drink of water. He noticed that the water gurgled more than usual as it ran in the glass. When he raised the glass to drink he saw a snake. Then he wanted help. He brought the reptile downstairs and was told it is a water moccasin. It is over five inches long and as big around as Wagner's little finger.

Deputy Sheriff Morris of Indiana was afflicted with Deafness, Weak Eyes, Cough, Sore Throat—all Symptoms of Catarrh.

Pe-ru-na Cured Him.

STATE COMMISSION FIRM

Mine Exhibit Will Be Conducted on Line of Original Plans.

The appointment of a superintendent of the department of mines and metallurgy to succeed Col. H. H. Gregg of Joplin, resigned, has been agreed upon by the Missouri World's Fair commission and the announcement will soon be made.

Col. Gregg tendered his resignation because he did not think $20,000, the amount appropriated for the outside mining display, was a sufficient sum. The commission has issued a statement about the appropriations, declaring that $75,000 would be expended upon the inside competitive exhibition, and that $20,000 was ample for the outside exhibit.

November weather causes Catarrh. Keep a bottle of PE-RU-NA on hand to use upon the first appearance of a Cold. Catarrh is only a neglected, chronic cold.

Mr. Raymond J. Morris, Deputy Sheriff of Floyd County, in a letter from New Albany, Ind., says:

"Last winter I contracted a most distressing cold. It affected my hearing, my eyes ran and my head was all stopped up, and I coughed until my throat was raw and sore. A druggist who was a personal friend asked me to try Peruna and I reluctantly did so. Usually all patent medicines nauseated me, but I was pleased to find that this was an exception, and that it soon relieved me. Within eight days I was cured, and in addition felt better and stronger than I had done for some time. Since that time I have used it off and on and find that it not only cures colds and all catarrhal affections but that it acts as a splendid appetizer. If the system becomes worn out or the nerves unstrung, Peruna acts as a fine tonic, relieves the tension and induces rest and renewed health. It is a fine remedy calculated to relieve young and old, and I heartily endorse it."

Raymond J. Morris, Deputy Sheriff

A United States Consul Endorses

Pe-ru-na.

Chas. Bouché, consul of the United States of America to Bremen, Germany, in a recent letter from Washington, D. C., writes:

"I cheerfully join with my many friends in their good opinion of Peruna as an effective remedy for catarrh and colds."

Men of prominence all over the United States are recommending Peruna. Over fifty members of Congress have written their endorsement of it. Scores of other government officials speak in high praise of it. Thousands of people in the humbler walks of life rely upon it as a family medicine. Send for free book of testimonials.

There are some things which are as sure as fate and can be relied on to occur to at least one-half of the human family unless means are taken to prevent.

First, the climate of fall and winter is sure to bring colds; second, colds not promptly cured are sure to cause catarrh; catarrh improperly treated is sure to make life short and miserable.

Catarrh spares no organ or function of the body. It is capable of destroying sight, taste, smell, hearing, digestion, secretion, assimilation and excretion. It pervades every part of the human body—head, throat, stomach, bowels, bronchial tubes, lungs, liver, kidneys, bladder and sexual organs.

Catarrh is the cause of at least one-half of the ills to which the human family is subject. Is there no way to escape from it? There is.

Peruna never fails to cure a cold. Peruna never fails to cure catarrh in the first stage. Peruna cures catarrh in the second stage, nine cases out of ten. Peruna cures catarrh in its last and worst stages in the majority of cases, and never fails to benefit every case, however bad.

Peruna also cures the grippe, coughs, and consumption in the first stages with unfailing certainty.

If you do not receive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

A book on the cure of throat and lung diseases, and catarrh in all stages and varieties, sent free to any address by The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.

GREAT SCIENTISTS WILL MEET HERE

American Association for Advancement of Science to Convene December 28.

SOCIETY HAS 4000 MEMBERS

President of the Association for the St. Louis Meeting Will Be Carroll D. Wright.

The American Association for the Advancement of Science will hold its annual convention in the St. Louis High School building during the week beginning Dec. 28. The American Association for the Advancement of Science is the largest scientific organization in America, covering the whole field of science, and it is expected that the approaching meetings will, as in past years, prove not only of the greatest scientific importance, but of very great general interest to the citizens of St. Louis.

The organization is more than half a century old, and at present numbers more than four thousand members.

The president of the association for the St. Louis meeting will be Carroll D. Wright, United States commissioner of labor. In addition to his government labors, Mr. Wright is president of the academic department of Clark University of Worcester, Mass. He was one of the leaders of the anthracite coal commission last winter, and has acted as arbitrator between labor and capital in several important disputes.

The American association includes in its membership scientific men and women from every state in the Union and from Mexico and Canada. The membership is divided into two classes—that of fellows and that of members. The fellows comprise those who have made the most distinguished and published scientific work of importance. The members are those who have not as yet published the results of scientific investigations of first importance and a large class of people who are amateurs in science.

Many of the great scientific discoveries of the past half century have first been announced at the annual meetings of the American association. The approaching convention is, therefore, looked forward to by scientists as one of prime importance.

The local committee appointed to arrange for the meetings is composed of Dr. H. Francis, honorary president; Prof. William Trelease, president; President of the State University, Prof. F. L. Soltan and C. M. Woodward, vice-presidents; William H. Thompson, Treasurer, and Prof. A. S. Langsdorf, secretary.

No effort is being spared to make the St. Louis meeting one of the largest and best in the history of the association and to provide every convenience for its sessions.

TWO WOUNDED IN A STREET BATTLE

Marshal of Illinois Town Shoots Brothers Who Resisted Arrest—One Will Die.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ASHLEY, Ill., Nov. 5.—Town Marshal Barry Smith shot Charles and Josh Smith, brothers, whom he was attempting to arrest on a street in this place yesterday afternoon.

Charles was wounded in the neck and will die. Josh's wound in the thigh is not considered dangerous.

Smith had a warrant for the arrest of Josh, Charles and another brother, Frank, on a charge of beating J. Vaudin. He made one attempt to serve it, but the trio fled beyond the town limits. Later, he met them on the street, and when he attempted to take them into custody, they attacked him.

He was being beaten severely when he began to use his pistol, firing four shots. After the shooting, the brothers got the pistol from him, and one of them hit him on the head with it, knocking him down. Citizens then went to his rescue.

INDIAN RELICS DISCOVERED.

Pennsylvania Gardener Finds Evidence of Aboriginal Village.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LA PORTER, Pa., Nov. 5.—Just as historians are beginning to think the Indian relics of central and northern Pennsylvania have all been found and hoarded away, Sullivan County comes to the front with a discovery that promises rich results for relic hunters. Wendell Sick, who cleared a small garden between King's creek and the Little Loyalock, five miles north of here, has found half a dozen valuable Indian relics, establishing the belief that an Indian village at one time occupied the spot. Though it has long been contended that Indians had no villages among the small valleys of Pennsylvania.

Among the articles found by Mr. Sick were a skinning stone, a wedge-shaped stone with remarkably sharp edges; a war club head, and a handful of arrow points. The wedge was a stone, shaped like a good egg, but larger, and having around it a deep groove. The Indians fastened their grooved stone axes and war clubs to handle in two ways. The most common practice was to bind the stone to a wooden handle, but there is evidence that in some instances the savages split open young hickory trees, forced the grooved weapon into the aperture, and left it there for a year or more until the growing tree had closed about the weapon. The tree was then cut down, and trimmed to a convenient size, the wood being shaved away to a thickness of about three-quarters of an inch around the weapon.

FRANCE FACES DEPOPULATION.

Falling Off of 34,000 in Year's Recruits Emphasizes Peril.

PARIS, Nov. 5.—A falling off in the number of French recruits this year by 34,000 draws attention to the depopulation of the country.

An extra parliamentary commission is advocating reforms calculated to lighten the burdens of the parents of large families, improve sanitation in order to reduce infant mortality, obligatory naturalization and a revision of the law of inheritance, diminishing the portion left to an only child, together with moral suasion and a propaganda to deter the peasantry from flocking to the towns.

ROBBERS STRIP A VICTIM.

Shoes, Socks, Coat and Hat Taken With Money and Ring.

Robbers who assaulted John Kagit of East St. Louis with a railroad spike, were not content with taking his pay check for $150, 10 cents in cash and a gold ring, but took his shoes, socks, coat and hat.

Kagit "as found unconscious at First Street," where he was taken to a hospital.

Heed Nature's Warning.

I suffered for two years with profuse as well as too frequent menstruation, sometimes returning after a cessation of from ten to sixteen days, causing great prostration, faintness and debility. I had used so much useless medicine that I had become completely discouraged when Wine of Cardui was brought to my notice. I used it for three days, when I found to my great relief that I felt generally better. After two months' continued use my health had been greatly improved and I seemed like a new woman. I became regular. The flow was painless and natural, and in four months I was in perfect health.

Words can but poorly express my gratitude and happiness over restored health, and I shall always be a firm friend of your grand medicine.

No. 1117 Terpsichore Street, NEW ORLEANS, LA., March 30, 1903.

Dorothy Palmer

SECRETARY, LA. MENSTRUATION CLUB.

WINE OF CARDUI

Nature could not give a more forceful warning than the continual pain which is attendant on menstrual disorders. As if to arouse the sufferer to the danger of her condition the pain is renewed with increased violence at each menstrual period. This warning cannot be mistaken although in hundreds of thousands of cases it is disregarded with fatal results.

Miss Palmer could have avoided her trouble if she had taken Wine of Cardui when the first warning was given two years ago. And you may get relief if you take Wine of Cardui like she did. It is your privilege to secure the same relief that so many thousands of women are securing from Wine of Cardui today. Wine of Cardui is a positive cure for distressing menstrual troubles. Why go on allowing your life to be harassed with these terrible pains and inflammations when you know that they will never wear off? They can only be banished by removing the irritating cause. If not relieved they develop into bearing down pains, ovarian pains, nervousness, blood poisoning or the deadly tumor. Can you read Miss Palmer's letter without longing for relief?

All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui

CLEAN OUT Your System

If a frog gets in your spring, you clean out the spring. If your system gets foul, you clean it out. If your horse goes lame, you apply immediate relief. If your engine breaks down, you repair it at once. Delay in any of these cases is disastrous. Ninety-seven per cent of the people suffer from some form of stomach or bowel trouble. All sorts of complications result from the delay in treating these organs. Keep your bowels clean and regular; then your stomach will perform its natural functions, your complexion will be clear, your breath sweet, your digestion perfect and your whole system rejoice in a delightful state of health.

NO DANCING IN NAPOLEON'S HEAD

French Colony Frowns on M. Rebero's Plan for World's Fair Concession.

SACRELIGIOUS THEY SAY

Exposition Officials Looked Favorably on the Scheme, but French Jamais!

M. Rebero, a concessionaire, wanted to build a monstrous Napoleon head at the World's Fair and conduct within it a cafe and dance room and French theater, with other amusements thrown in for good measure. M. Rebero will not do this. Members of the local French colony were astounded by the daring proposition and became indignant. Their attitude caused the withdrawal of what moneyed support Rebero had received and his plan, though it is said to have been favorably considered by the Exposition authorities, is now believed to have been abandoned.

A petition is in course of preparation by leading members of the French colony, praying that the World's Fair management give M. Rebero no such concession. The question will also be discussed at length at the annual banquet of the Society of the Fourteenth of July, at the Planters Hotel, Saturday night, when it is expected that action will be taken which will put a final quietus to M. Rebero's ambitions.

M. Rebero's idea, while it would be a great success financially, could never be sanctioned by the French people, said a prominent member of the colony at the Hotel de Paris, North Eighth street, headquarters of the Franco-American Society, Thursday afternoon. "M. Rebero is Portuguese, not French, and he probably did not think his great scheme sacreligious until Frenchmen told him their feelings. He formerly came here often and mingled frequently with the French colonists. He does not do so now."

M. Rebero's first request to the World's Fair was for a concession to build a head of Napoleon for the same purpose, however, was not opposed.

Louis Sequenot, French consul, who has taken active interest in the opposition to Rebero's scheme for the Napoleon head, is ill at his home, 221 Whittier street, but has kept in touch with the progress of the case. He expects to visit the consulate in the De Menil building late this week and is to be one of the guests at the banquet Saturday evening.

BOY MISSING THREE WEEKS

Mother Asks Police to Look for Philip Luttbog, Who Wore Red Sweater.

Because his father was not satisfied with the way he did his work, and remanded him Philip Luttbog, 16 years old, ran away from his home, 2341 Bernays avenue, Sunday, Oct. 18. That was three weeks ago, and his parents have not seen him since.

The police have been appealed to by the boy's mother, Mrs. Morris Luttbog, and every effort is being made to find the missing boy. His mother fears he may have fallen into bad hands.

Philip is described as being large for his age, with black hair and a fair complexion. He is about 5 feet 10 inches in height and weighs about 140 pounds. When he left home he was attired in red sweater and a pair of black trousers spotted with paint. The boy worked for his father at painting.

COTTON PLANTING IN LIBERIA.

Significance of the Meeting Between William and Nicholas.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 5.—The meeting of the czar and Emperor William at Wiesbaden yesterday is commented on by the newspapers here as being a fresh pledge of the preservation of general peace. The Novosti's remarks attract special attention, as they reiterate the suggestion of an Anglo-Russian rapprochement, which has been recently mooted by some Russian publicists. The Novosti comments the idea that Russia and Great Britain must remain rivals, and says the clearest proof of this is found in Britain's absolutely peaceful policy and the influence she has exercised on Japan in the present Russian-Japanese differences. The paper sees no reason why a more frequent exchange of views, giving more intimate knowledge of each other, should not lead to a similar entente as effected between Great Britain and France.

SENATOR CLARK PLAYS BIG GIFT

Proposes to Donate 1,150,000 Acres of Land to Homeseekers If Congress Refuses.

WOULD COST HIM $2,000,000

Ready to Buy Strip of Crow Reservation If It Isn't Opened for Settlement.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. BILLINGS, Mont., Nov. 5.—The gift in fee simple of 1,150,000 acres of fine agricultural and grazing land as there is on the American continent to the people or citizens of a single state is a proposition so stupendous as to cause one to think of an Arabian Nights story.

Yet this is what Wm. A. Clark, United States senator from Montana, plans to do, if the bill which has long been before Congress throwing open for settlement a strip of the Crow reservation, 75 miles east of Billings, in the counties of Yellowstone, Rosebud and Custer, this state, and Sheridan, Wyo., containing the land mentioned, fails of passage at the next session of Congress.

Senator Clark, whose wealth is estimated at nearly $20,000,000, will shortly be in Billings to go over all the ground contemplated in the proposed Crow treaty.

It is said that unless favorable action be had on the bill, he will procure the enactment of a law empowering him to make a personal treaty with the Crow Indians, and he will buy the tract outright on his own personal responsibility.

This purpose of Senator Clark was recently communicated to Chief Plentius of the Crow, who immediately summoned a council of the head men of his tribe and the proposition was thoroughly discussed, resulting in ready acquiescence on the part of the council in the proposed scheme.

The execution of Senator Clark's purpose will cost him something over $2,000,000. This to him would be a mere bagatelle, but it would enable thousands of American homeseekers to rise up as one man and acclaim: "Great is Clark, the great benefactor." This is one of the most valuable strips of agricultural land there is in the country, and it is Senator Clark's intention, if he has to buy the tract, to have incorporated in the special act, empowering him to do so, a clause absolutely binding him to the land. He will, in his intention, make a simple presentation to his countrymen, without regard to race, color or previous condition, of a strip of land worth from $20 to $40 an acre, if devoted to agricultural purposes.

CITY NEWS.

We have not the least doubt that the CRAWFORD STORE holds now within its walls the most complete and most intelligently bought stocks of ladies', misses', youths', boys' and children's hosiery in St. Louis, as also the most complete stocks of ladies', misses', youths' and children's knit underwear in cotton, merino, cashmere and wool. The buyer of this stock has been successful in securing during the past ten days the Travelers' samples in Hosiery and Underwear of some 6 or 7 of our best wholesale merchants in a few of the largest cities of the continent, at a discount of from 33-1/3 to 50 per cent. The goods are now offered the public at the CRAWFORD STORE at the same ratio of discount.

THOMAS WATSON ON WARPATH

Former Candidate for Vice-President on Populist Ticket Parades Town With Shotgun, Defying Enemies.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Nov. 5.—The town of Thomson, Ga., has been in a ferment for two days on account of armed hostilities, in which Thomas E. Watson, congressman from Georgia, candidate for vice-president on the Populist ticket and author of several historical works, was the central figure.

For some time relations had been more than strained between Mr. Watson and what is known as the liquor element of the town.

Several days ago some caustic remarks, emphasized by curses, were made about Mr. Watson in a barbershop by a young man of the town. The remarks reached the ears of Mr. Watson, and when he encountered the man next day at the public artesian well and questioned him about it the young man did not deny it and proceeded to curse him.

A personal encounter was avoided at the time through the interference of bystanders, but Mr. Watson's antagonist has several brothers and kinsmen, who rallied at once, heavily armed, to his support.

Then Mr. Watson concluded that it was time for him to make greater provision for his safety than his bare hands afforded. He went to a hardware store and secured a double-barreled shotgun and returned to the street.

The negroes of the place "took to the woods" and the whites were on the verge of civil war, one element backing Mr. Watson and the other the liquor element. Watson's personal courage is undisputed.

BROKER'S DAUGHTER MISSING.

Society Girl's Disappearance Is Attributed to Mental Aberration.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Much excitement has been caused among the residents of East Orange, N. J., by the mysterious disappearance of Miss Clara J. Coffin, daughter of a New York broker.

The girl was a leader in the younger society set of the Orange and had been studying quite hard to keep up her classes in high school, where she was to graduate this year. The school authorities believe her mind has given way under the strain of overwork.

Miss Coffin left her home early Tuesday evening, presumably to go to the home of a friend a few miles distant. She never reached that place and no trace has been found of her since.

There are relatives of the family residing at New Castle, Ind., but it is thought that Miss Coffin had money enough with her to reach that place.

Hungry Man Filled With Prunes.

James Donnelly of 5630 Bartmer avenue, persuaded the City Hospital interne that he was more in need of something to eat than of an operation, when he was taken there to have a dislocation of the right shoulder reduced. He was about to be placed on the operating table when he commenced a series of witty requests for something to eat, and won his point. A dish of prunes and a slice of bread from the poorhouse bakery being served to him.

Missouri in Sculpture.

Nine sculptured figures to represent the industries and emblematic features of Missouri have been selected by the Missouri World's Fair Commission. Statues of Napoleon and Jefferson are prominent in the approach to the state building. "The Spirit of Missouri" will top the dome. "Agriculture" will guard the building to the east and "Mining" to the west. "Abundance" and "The Farmer" and a heraldic bear will be the other pieces.

KRAATZ'S FRIENDS
APPEAL TO DIAZPetition Sent to Mexican President
Asking That Fugitive Be Given
His Freedom.

HARD FIGHT ON EXTRADITION

"If Folk's Race for Governor Depends on Kratz He Might as Well Quit," Says Lawyer.

BY C. C. RIDER.

Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

GUADALAJARA, Mex., Nov. 5.—Kratz and his attorneys have further shown their belief that the decision in the extradition case rests with President Diaz and not with the district judge of the state of Jalisco, by circulating a petition to the President to grant Kratz's release.

This petition is signed by Mexican citizens of Guadalajara and the state, and has been forwarded to the City of Mexico. It begs the Mexican President not to surrender Kratz to the American authorities.

It is known that many of the state officials are favorable to Kratz, and this quasi-admission that they are powerless in the matter in so far as the final decision is concerned, is considered as distinctly interesting.

However, the fight against extradition is far from finished, according to the friends of Kratz. Attorney Paulmier, who came here from St. Louis to work for Kratz, declared today:

"If Kratz's success in the race for governor depends on getting Kratz back here, as well as the contest now, I am that confident that Kratz will not be extradited."

Desmond and Dickmann spent yesterday and this morning in seeing the sights. With the American consul they called on Frederick Kuhnert, the German consul here.

They also visited the penitentiaria, the library and the cathedral.

MENELIK WILL BRING HIS QUEEN

Taitu of Abyssinia Is Expected to Accompany Her Royal Husband to St. Louis.

INVITATION ON ITS WAY

Wife of African Sovereign Is Described as Enterprising and Enlightened Woman.

When Menelik, King of Abyssinia, and direct descendant of King Solomon and the Queen of Sheba, arrives in St. Louis to visit the World's Fair, he will be accompanied by his wife, Taitu, duly crowned Empress of Ethiopia at the same time that Menelik ascended his throne.

According to information that has reached Washington, there is little doubt that both the royal personages will come.

Official acceptance of the special invitation that is being conveyed to King Menelik and Queen Taitu is expected upon its presentation by Mr. Robert P. Skinner, special envoy, who is supposed to have reached Beirut and begun the organization of the caravan which will take him to the Abyssinian capital. He will be escorted by 16 United States marines from the Marine Corps, whence he will begin his journey of state.

A United States warship will conduct the king and queen from their dominions to the United States, and will also convey them to their country after they have completed their visit.

Negotiations with the department of state for the visit of the king and queen have been conducted by Allen V. Cockrell, Washington representative of the World's Fair, who has received assurances that the visit will be accorded every courtesy due to royalty.

Queen Taitu is a woman of remarkable force of character and of modern ideas. She is a power in Abyssinia, and has been the instigator of many of the notable achievements that have distinguished Menelik's reign.

She takes a keen interest in the problems of government, especially as they apply to her own country. Taitu is Menelik's second wife. She is the daughter of a nobleman of Tigray, and her marriage to her husband at the time considered a match of every body, except the two most interested ones. They are greatly attached to each other.

The queen is a very large woman, and she is possessed of a genial, though commanding, disposition.

POPE MAY RECEIVE LOUBET.

Pius Likely to Greet President When He Visits Rome.

ROME, Nov. 5.—It is now certain that Mr. Lorenzelli, the nuncio at Paris, will be made a cardinal at the next consistory without asking the usual consent of the French government, in order that a new man may be sent to deal with French matters.

The expected visit of President Loubet to Rome has given rise to the rumor that Pius X will refuse to receive him at the Vatican. Nothing, however, is definitely settled and negotiations are still under way. Cardinal Loefer, Archbishop of Bordeaux, and several of his French colleagues have sent a collective letter to the Pope asking him to receive Loubet. Many of the Roman cardinals, Rampolla among them, are also in favor of this step, and it is thought that Pius X will overcome the objections of several eminent prelates and accord to the French President an audience.

ROOSEVELT ON GOOD ROADS.

William H. Moore of St. Louis Calls at the White House.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—William H. Moore, president of the National Good Roads Association, was one of the callers at the White House this morning. He said he came on from St. Louis to talk about the good roads legislation in the next session of the Congress and to make arrangements for the meeting of the association in St. Louis next May.

The President has always taken deep interest in the subject and outlined to Mr. Moore some recommendations, which he would make to Congress in his annual message.

The President is in favor of the government's existing states in solving road problems, but not in building roads. He thinks the first thing to do is to find out the most practical way of giving this assistance.

Mr. Moore told him of the project for building a road from St. Louis to Kansas City through 11 counties. The President said he liked the plan because it would attract general attention and arouse interest in the good roads movement.

This afternoon Mr. Moore went to the state department and arranged for invitations to the next national meeting to go forward to other countries through the state department.

SICK MAN LEADS HIS TICKET.

Patient in St. Louis Hospital Elected to New York Assembly.

ARTHUR C. WADE of Jamestown, N. Y., who was elected to a seat in the New York state legislature Tuesday, expects to be able to leave the Deaconess Hospital in St. Louis for his home in three weeks.

Mr. Wade left home to receive treatment from local physicians soon after his nomination in September. He did not know the seriousness of his case until he arrived in St. Louis. His friends pushed his campaign and later while he was recovering from the illness which had brought him West. He led his ticket in the voting Tuesday.

Poverty Social.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the First Christian Church has issued unique invitations for a "poverty social" to be given at the home of Mrs. Mrs. Metcalf, 618 Eighth avenue, Thursday evening, Oct. 23. The social will feature the women's attire, while the men attending are duty-bound to wear their oldest old clothes.

Woman Sent to Penitentiary.

Belle Plaisir, colored, was found guilty of assault with intent to kill in the St. Clair County Circuit Court Thursday. She stabbed Lena Stewart in a quarrel over a lover in East St. Louis Aug. 10. She was sentenced to the Chester penitentiary under the indeterminate law.

CHANGING TRAINS

Brother Witnesses Death of Visitor From Milwaukee in Union Station Train Shed.

Mrs. Mary Tyndall of Milwaukee was crushed under a train at Union Station at 9 o'clock Thursday morning and died a few minutes later on an operating table at the City Hospital.

Mrs. Tyndall was 34 years old and a widow. She has been spending three weeks in St. Louis as the guest of her brother, J. D. Gorman, at his home in Kirkwood. Thursday morning Mrs. Tyndall departed for Milwaukee, where three children awaited her coming. She and Mr. Gorman came into St. Louis on a Missouri Pacific suburban train, reaching Union Station at 9 o'clock. It was nearly time for her train for Milwaukee to leave the station. Instead of going out through the gates and walking through the midway to the gate leading to the Milwaukee train, Mrs. Tyndall started to walk across the tracks.

Not noticing the approach of a string of passenger cars, which were being backed into the station, she walked into the path of death. Her brother cried to her, but she did not hear. She was knocked down by the rear coach and dragged along the track, her body being terribly crushed and cut. She was carried unconscious to an ambulance, her brother by her side. She had been in the care of the surgeons at the hospital but a moment when she died.

Mr. Gorman said at the hospital that the Kirkwood train was late in arriving at Union Station and that his sister's train for the north was due to leave in 10 minutes. He says the conductor of the Kirkwood train told them they had better go across the tracks if they hoped to catch the Milwaukee train. They ran behind the suburban train and immediately in front of another train.

NEWSBOY IS VERY BUSY LAD

Frank Wood of East St. Louis Goes to School Regularly and Sells 100 Post-Dispatches Every Day.

Frank Wood is one of the many boys who are going to school and selling the Post-Dispatch on the street after their classes are over for the day. And Frank doesn't complain either, for by his evening's work he makes himself independent of his parents.

Frank is only 14 years old. He lives at 792 Market avenue, East St. Louis, goes to school regularly and sells his paper every evening. He averages 100 Post-Dispatches every evening and 48 on Sunday. He is doing well for a little fellow whose time is so limited.

Besides his regular profits, which amount to a neat sum in the course of a week, Frank, like all the other Post-Dispatch boys, is substantially rewarded for his newspaper work. He receives rubber coats and other articles are issued by the branches where the boys get their papers.

C. B. CARR FUNERAL FRIDAY

Widow, Son and Four Daughters Survive Well-Known Man.

The funeral of C. Bent Carr will take place Friday morning at 10 o'clock from St. Rose's Church, Goodfellow and Etzel avenues. The pallbearers will be Charles Cabanne, William D. Scott, William L. Hull, Charles Russell, George W. Kerr, Carr Cabanne and E. L. Adreon.

Mr. Carr, who was a member of one of the earliest families of St. Louis, died Wednesday at his home, 534 Cabanne avenue. He had been ill for two months. Mr. Carr was married to Miss Louise Atchinson, daughter of Capt. George Atchinson of St. Genevieve, in 1883. He is survived by his widow, four daughters and one son. They are Mrs. Ernest Bell of Coburg, Canada; Mrs. Edgar L. Taylor, Miss Fannie Carr, Miss Hazel Carr and Robert Carr.

LITTLE FOLKS TO SEE LITTLE HORSES

Matinee Performance Is Thrown Open to Children From Orphan's Homes.

THURSDAY EVENING'S
HORSE SHOW PROGRAM

Registered trotters to road wagons. Gaited saddle mares. Pair park horses. Tandems. Exhibition by Hayes' fire fighters. Pair of carriage horses. Single roadsters. Saddle mares or geldings, carrying 150 pounds. Lightweight green hunters. Exhibition by Rex McDonald, the high school stallion.

The first matinee of the Horse Show will be given Thursday afternoon. The children from orphan's homes will be the honor guests, a general invitation having been extended to them by the Horse Show management.

Friday evening Morocco, the Barbary steed presented to President Francis by the Sultan of Morocco, will be shown. On the same evening, the Chinese and Brazilian commissioners to the World's Fair, with their suites, will occupy boxes.

First Concert of Season.

The Lotus Glee Club's concert Friday night will be the opening number of the Central Y. M. C. A. winter entertainment course. Minnie Marshall Smith, a dramatic reciter from New York, will be assisted by a company of six.

"Force-thoughts"

Nov. 5

IN these times of germ discoveries I have been doing a little experimenting on my own account, and I have discovered something that most people knew ages ago, but few today remember not to forget.

It is the small germ that kills success; its common name is the Little Hurry. Technically it may truthfully be called either Impatience, Indigestion or Wrong Food, which are usually synonymous for Nervousness or any other bodily derangement which affects the mental poise.

The Little Hurry wastes more energy than the big one. There is little excuse for big ones—none at all for little ones.

The most important thing I know is how to rest between times.

Learn to eat the food that has no hurry in it; which means the food that doesn't hurry or worry the stomach, but makes body and mind strong and powerful to do the "one thing at a time" that is to be done at that time.

It is the sunny food I make called "FORCE."

Be Sunny.

Yours truly,

Sunny Jim

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

Dr. Lavendar's People by Margaret Deland Author of "Old Chester Tales" Illustrated

No one who read Mrs. Deland's earlier book has forgotten Dr. Lavendar. In this new volume it is again the lovable Dr. Lavendar whose wide sympathies bring him into the most intimate crises in the lives of his people. This many-sided country minister, whose humor is never failing, whose judgment never errs, and whose moral justice is absolute, is the central figure in scenes of both comedy and tragedy—all told with finished art.

Play at Columbian Club.
The initial performance of a new one-act operetta entitled "The Dancing Master" will be given Saturday evening at the Columbian Club, Vandeventer and Lindell avenues.

The production is the joint work of Arthur Lieber, a well-known St. Louis musician, and Mrs. Alice Helmers Watson, also of this city. It concerns a little romance enacted in Paris in the year 1799, which has allowed composers the opportunity of introducing several diverting bits of music.

The cast of characters is as follows:
Fidus, a French maid..... Miss Clemence Semitz
Mme. Romerville, a rich American..... Miss May Goldman
Suzanne, her daughter, just married at a French convent..... Miss May Goldman
Harold, in love with Suzanne..... Mr. Edgar Lockland

THE HORSE SHOW.

We confess a piebald fondness for the potato race. It is the only thing the horse show that we understand, has no comprehension of equine merits and imperfections. Why the wide animal with the fringed feet should be decked with a blue ribbon when a yellow one would be more becoming to his complexion is a thing we would not dare attempt to explain. We are further puzzled by a perusal of the newspaper accounts of the show. It only confuses us to read that somebody's b. m. class x were brown volles trimmed with bead pearls, cut dent-train, bias around the mane, fetlocks of green silk and stiff pasterns. We don't know what it means.

The Modern Knight.

But the potato race appeals to our primal instincts. It harks our minds back to the days of chivalry. Again we see brave knights jousting in the lists for fair ladies' favor, and tumbling each other, hard-ware and all, in the dust of the arena for the beauty's smile. Only the potato tournament is better. We like the milder methods of today, and are glad that instead of depositing their adversaries' heads in the basket, these young warriors are content to use the lovely potato as a trophy. It shows how civilized we have become. You can use the potato again at the boarding house, but the head of an enemy, once detached from its native trunk, would never be of any use more forever.

Still, there is enough of the element of danger in the potato race, and a sufficient play of nerve and muscle and skill to make it exciting and fascinating. There is nothing thrilling in the amputations of the head of an enemy, nor in the hunters and roadsters with rainy-day tails.

We should have more potato racing in these shows. It would enable us to keep awake throughout the performance.

There seems to be enough crowd to give both the Democrats and the Republicans a good portion.

Mr. C. A. R. Ringoff has sued a railroad company for $20,000 damages. With such a name and initials Mr. Ringoff need not worry even should he lose his suit. Vaudeville and paragraphs could well afford to pay him a royalty for their use in fun.

George Dolle's wife says that he has a hobby for shooting policemen. This is one of the hobbies that will probably be ridden to death.

The legality of Mr. Folk's salary is being questioned. Of course the circuit attorney will probe the matter to the bottom.

Is there no way to harness the power generated by these earthquakes we are having so frequently nowadays?

Frog hunting is now classed as one of the great industries of Missouri. Always wondered if we raised our own hips.

Panama has seceded from Colombia. We will have to annex that canal and those hats yet.

Well, if the Fair is a success every day will be St. Louis day.

THE PLAINT OF AN EXILE.

I am tired of the country.
I am sick of rustication;
And I want to see the city once again;
I want to make an ending
Of a too prolonged vacation
And visit soon the busy haunts of men.

I am tired of the rural
Joys alleged to be so great;
I am tired of the quiet and repose;
I want to find a corner
Where the people congregate
And carelessly tread on each other's toes.

I am sighing for the turmoil
Of the city's busy streets;
And the glimmer of the lights along Broadway;
Where a fellow doesn't recognize
The people that he meets.
And the night is even better than the day.

O I'm tired of the meadows
And the smell of the new-mown hay;
And the cattle and the katydids and such;
I want to smell the sewer gas
And watch the "buncos" play,
And have a friend approach me for a touch.

O give me back the boarding house
And take your country joys!
I am hungry for a pale, cold-storage egg;
I'd give the farm and mortgage
For a night out with the boys.
The chemical complexion and cotton-battling leg!

The city's mighty wicked,
And it looks and smells most vile;
It's a "Babylonish woman" we'll agree,
But at least it doesn't bore you,
Something's doing all the while,
It's iniquitous—but good enough for me!

The Man Who Wants You to Love Him

By
Nixola Greeley-Smith

The man who wants you to love him may be called the logical candidate for your hand, since according to the latest campaign definition of the term it means the candidate you don't want but may have to take.

Every woman not hopelessly unattractive has at least one of these matrimonial reserves. He is young, distinctly eligible, rich therefore, and good-looking perhaps. And he means well. Something you sometimes find it harder to forgive him than that he meant otherwise or nothing.

He wants you to marry him. He tells you so nearly every time your mother or sister leaves the room when he is making his interminable Sunday afternoon call. And though you have refused him a score of times he has an unflinching confidence that you will ultimately become his wife.

He tells you that you are romantic now, that it is natural to be romantic at your age, but that when you are 25 and he is thirty-something you will have lost your beauty and the more physical attributes that you now seem to look for in a hero, and that as you will then be better fitted for the duties of wifehood he is content to wait.

He does not seem to realize that his confident anticipation of the loss of those illusions that alone make life worth living is disagreeable.

He is right in assuming that you will lose them, perhaps. He is probably right in believing that you will marry him. For more women have been won by the sheer exasperating persistence of the man who loves them than by the long-awaited declarations of the men they love.

You dream now of a wonderful being, half man, half avalanche, who will come day sweep into your life and make it his. But there are not so many of these "avalanches" as there are young girls waiting for them, and though yours may come he may not marry, but sweeping everything before him, leaving your life waste indeed.

In the dreary darkness of that time, if it ever comes to you, you will say to yourself that you will never love again. You will live for a time in the recollection of your lost paradise and will believe that at its barred gates memory must henceforth stand forever, an angel with flaming sword.

But memory, like all other gatekeepers, can be bribed, soothed, cajoled into temporary negligence of duty. And outside the gates the man who wants you to love him will wait patiently for one of those moments.

It will come, and when he asks you to marry him for the fiftieth of the hundredth time you will say yes.

And you will be happy with him—happier than with the avalanche probably. He will love you far better than the avalanche could. You will love him, too, though your life will not be spent in the trying sunlight of a love mutually strong, but in a more becoming twilight of emotion, a radiance of reflected passion as it were.

Perhaps you will hesitate to marry the man who wants you to love him for a time of conscientious scruples.

At any rate, you have become wise enough to take him, as Danae, the wisest of Greek maidens, did, in a golden shower. The things to do is to take him. It will make him happy—and if you must, analyze your motives afterward. But it is well to avoid self-analysis, which is, after all, but a vivisection of the soul.

Time to Get Used to It

Suddenly the brow of Dimitri Dimitrovich clouded. He glanced across the table, which offensive air of conviviality he smote with clenched fist, and announced: "Do you know why I am enraged?"

His guests did not. "I can scarce contain myself when I think of it. Listen! You know me, I am Dimitri Dimitrovich, an artist! So! Well, listen: I am, in point of fact, Prince Dimitri Dimitrovich, who should of right be King of Roumania. I have been unjustly deprived of my throne by the Unspeaking Turk!"

The eyes of the chairman of the reception committee grew round as he looked at the World's Fair visitor.

"Do you mean to tell me, Dim, that you are the rightful heir to Roumania?"

"I do," asserted Dim.

"And when was your family deposed?"

"Anno Domini fourteen hundred and thirty-two."

"Then all I can say," observed the chairman of the R. C., philosophically, "is that you ought to be used to it by this time."

Froude as a Historian

Hannis Taylor of Mobile told the Alaskan boundary commission a story of E. A. Freeman, the historian. The two were great friends, and when the latter was in this country some years ago Mr. Taylor met him at St. Louis. One evening they dined together. In the course of the conversation Mr. Taylor asked Freeman his estimate of Froude as a historian.

"For a moment there was no reply," said Mr. Taylor. "Presently he looked me squarely in the face and said: 'Mr. Taylor, if ever you read anything, he writes, read it with care. Read it over and over again. Put the article aside until next day and then read it again and again, until you have fixed it irrevocably in your memory, for then you will know one thing certain, and that is that by no possibility did it ever happen in that way.'"

GIVING HIM AWAY.

LaMont: Dudley is at college. They say he is half-back now.
LaMorne: I guess that's right. He has paid only fifty of that hundred he owed his tailor.

NEW HOTEL TO BE ERECTED AT DE GIVERVILLE AND DE BALIVIERE

$75,000 Structure, Owned by the Home Brewing Company, Will Have 240 Rooms With All Modern Conveniences.

Architect J. L. Wees has completed plans for a hotel and pavilion to be erected at the northeast corner of DeGiverville and DeBaliviere avenues by the Home Brewing Co., at a cost of $75,000. It will be three stories high and will be constructed of brick and steel, having 180 feet on DeGiverville by 190 feet on DeBaliviere.

The first floor will be occupied by a large saloon, 65x20 feet, a cafe and restaurant 100x100 feet and a barber shop. The second and third floors will contain 240 rooms with all conveniences. A feature of the hotel will be a dome with electric effects.

The Forney Hotel Co. has been formed to operate the enterprise under the management of Mr. D. P. Woody.

Frank Gerhart, president of the F. H. & C. B. Gerhart Realty Co., the lessor, states that the brewing company has already been made several propositions for leases of the stores, $8000 having been offered for the candy concession.

The terms of the lease closed by the Home Brewing Co. are withheld, but they are said to provide for a rental which places the property on a decidedly remunerative basis for the period in question.

The site is within 300 feet of the main DeBaliviere entrance to the Fair, and is immediately across the street from the Rock Island railroad, the Wabash station and the Pike.

The Home Brewing Co., as announced in last Sunday's Post-Dispatch, has taken a five-year lease of the corner and the hotel will continue in operation after the Fair.

The hotel will be built under the direct supervision of Mr. Wees, who also made the plans for the Forest Park Hotel, in course of construction on the south side of the park.

Blushing under the honors bestowed upon him, he retired to the back yard to practice baseball, singletick and history writing, thus seeking to fit himself for the burdens of office.

BEER IN BARN; WORK FOR LAW

Steven Frawley Says Edward Hopkins Beat Him—Hopkins Says Frawley Got Tangled in Barrels.

Steven Frawley, complainant, and Edward Hopkins, prisoner at the Soudard street police station, agree upon just one point in telling the story of what happened in Hopkins' barn at the rear of 1213 South Third street. The one point is that they had several cans of beer together.

Frawley says that Hopkins invited him to drink beer, and that he then knocked him down, beat him, and robbed him of $4.75, overlooking, however, $15 that was in an inside pocket.

Hopkins says Frawley was the one who suggested the beer, and that when he started to leave the barn he got hopelessly tangled up with a lot of rice barrels.

Hopkins avers that all he did to Frawley was to help him out of the barrels, and scratches that his fall had cost him, and perform other offices of a good samaritan.

Frawley lives at a hotel at Fourth street and Clark avenue. He says he will prosecute Hopkins.

Frawley lives at a hotel at Fourth street and Clark avenue. He says he will prosecute Hopkins.

Hopkins says Frawley was the one who suggested the beer, and that when he started to leave the barn he got hopelessly tangled up with a lot of rice barrels.

Hopkins avers that all he did to Frawley was to help him out of the barrels, and scratches that his fall had cost him, and perform other offices of a good samaritan.
